ORGANIZATION.

NATIVE ARMY.

No. 8.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to sanction the reconstitution of two more regiments of Madras native infantry for service in Burma.

2. The corps selected for reconstitution are the 30th and 31st Regiments of Madras Infantry, which, on re-formation, will be designated, respectively—

"THE 30TH REGIMENT (5TH BURMA BATTALION) OF MADRAS INFANTRY."

"THE 31ST REGIMENT (6TH BURMA BATTALION) OF MADRAS (LIGHT) INFANTRY."

3. These corps will be formed—the one from the existing Pyinmana Battalion of Military Police (six companies) supplemented by two companies of the Katha-Magwe Military Police Battalion, and the other from the existing Shwebo Battalion of Military Police (eight companies).

4. The existing material of the 30th and 31st Regiments of Madras Infantry will be mustered out and the Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men now serving in these corps will be transferred to other regiments or pensioned or discharged in the manner hereinafter stated.

5. These corps as now reconstituted will ordinarily be stationed in Burma, but will be recruited for general service.

6. The strength of each corps will be as follows, organized in eight companies :—

- 1 Commandant.
- 2 Wing Commanders (the senior to be 2nd-in-Command).
- 5 Wing officers (of whom one will be Adjutant and one Quartermaster).
- 1 Medical Officer.
- 8 Subadars (one of whom will be Subadar-Major).
- 8 Jemadars (one of whom will be Native Adjutant).
- 41 Havildars (including one Havildar-Major).
- 40 Naicks.
- 16 Drummers or buglers.
- 720 Sepoys.

7. The British officers will be selected by the Commander-in-Chief, Madras, as far as possible from volunteers from the Madras Army, but those now serving with the police corps about to be transferred to the army, if they belong to another presidency, may receive suitable appointments in the reconstituted corps for a period of three years, should it be desired to retain their services with them, and if they are willing to remain.

8. The rule (Article 266, clause (a), Army Regulations, India, vol. I, part I) requiring commandants to vacate on completion of seven years' tenure will not for the present be applied to the commandants of the corps now reformed.

9. The pay and allowances of the British officers of these corps will be the same as those allowed for native infantry generally, but, in consideration of the circumstances of local service in Burma, each British officer will receive in addition a local allowance of Rs. 100 per mensem, and will also be eligible for the indulgence of three months' privilege leave in each year.

10. The British officers of these corps belonging to the Madras army will be eligible for general staff employment in the same way as all other officers of that army. They will be subject to the same rules as regards exchanges and transfers as the officers of the four Burma battalions already formed.

11. Probationers for the Indian Staff Corps may be appointed direct to these corps in succession to vacancies, without first going through a course of duty with other regiments of the Madras Army.

12. The native officers, non-commissioned officers and men now serving in the police battalions above named will be eligible to continue serving in the corps on their conversion on the terms now laid down.

13. The following rates of pay are sanctioned for the native ranks of the corps, viz. :—

Pay as laid down for Madras in Army Regulations, India, vol. I, part II, articles 45-C and 68-D, plus the following monthly Burma allowance in lieu of batta allowed to Madras troops in Burma (vide article 109-A of the same Regulations) :

	R
Subadar-Major	50
Subadar	30
Jemadar	15
Havildar	7-8
Naick	6
Drummer, Bugler, and Sepoy	2

The Burma local allowance will be admitted to native officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Burma battalions of Madras Infantry during all authorised leave or furlough taken by them, whether in India or in Burma.

14. Good-conduct pay will be given as laid down in articles 85 and 86 of the Regulations above quoted.

15. The conditions of service as regards enlistment, kit money, clothing, half mounting, discharge, pensions, and free quarters will be the same as those sanctioned for the four Burma battalions already formed.

16. Former service in the police battalions and in the army will count towards the period of service required for the grant of good-conduct pay and pension.

17. All ranks, including native officers, will be granted free rations as in Army Regulations, India, vol. V, para. 522.

18. Furlough and leave will be granted under the regulations in force in the Bengal Army.

19. The indulgences conceded to the military police in regard to families will be continued on the transfer of these companies of military police to the Madras Army, viz. :—

(a) Native officers will be permitted to take their families to Burma on payment of one Third ~~half~~ passage money. Circle 990 to 11/94

(b) Twenty per cent. of havildars, 20 per cent. of naicks, and 5 per cent. of drummers, buglers, and sepoys will be allowed a similar indulgence free of cost.

(c) Free accommodation will be provided for families to the above extent.

The term "families" is held to apply to wives and children only.

20. Soldiers serving in the battalions as now re-formed will be liable to transfer to any other local Burma battalions to which these corps may hereafter be linked, as the exigencies of the service may require.

21. The classes of which the 30th and 31st (Burma) Regiments of Madras Infantry are composed will be notified hereafter.

22. The Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men now serving in the 30th and 31st Regiments of Madras Infantry will cease to be borne on the rolls thereof from the 31st January, 1892, and will be disposed of as follows :

(a) Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men who have served for pension for 25 years and upwards will be transferred to the pension establishment on the superior rate of pension of their rank, irrespective of the period they may have served therein, plus rice compensation.

(b) Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men of 15 years' service and upwards will be transferred to the pension establishment on the ordinary pension of their rank (irrespective of the period they may have served therein), plus rice compensation, with the option, in the case of drummers, buglers, and privates who have not completed 21 years' service, of being transferred to other regiments.

(c) Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men of more than 10 and less than 15 years' service will be transferred to the pension establishment on two-thirds of the ordinary rate of pension of their rank (irrespective of the period they may have served therein), plus rice compensation, with the option, in the case of drummers, buglers, and privates, of being transferred to other regiments.

(d) Non-commissioned officers and men of more than 5 years' and less than 10 years' service will have the option of transfer to other regiments, and, in the case of privates only, of joining the active reserve. Such as elect for discharge from the service, or for transfer to the active reserve, will receive a gratuity of one month's pay (including good-conduct pay) for each year of service.

(e) Non-commissioned officers and men of less than 5 years' service will have the option of being transferred to other regiments, or, in the case of privates only, of joining the active reserve.

23. The restriction as to the number of men (160) to be permitted to join the active reserve of any one battalion is suspended in regard to the 30th and 31st Madras Infantry.

24. The present reservists of the battalions to be reconstituted will be allowed the option of joining the reserves of the battalions linked to these corps under their former organization, or of taking their discharge.

25. The mess, band, and other property of the 30th and 31st Madras Infantry, together with the colors of these corps, will remain with the regiments as reconstituted.

MEDALS.

SAMANA.

No. 61.—The Viceroy and Governor-General in Council has much gratification in announcing to the army that Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India has been graciously pleased to approve of the grant of the India medal, with a clasp inscribed "Samana 1891," to all the troops and followers employed in the late Miranzai Expedition, who came on the field service scale of rations between the 5th April, 1891, and the 25th May, 1891.

2. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief is requested to issue the necessary subsidiary orders for the submission of medal rolls in accordance with the instructions given in War Office Army Order No. 252 of 1891.

ORGANIZATION.

No. 62.—Under instructions from Her Majesty's Government, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the raising of a battalion of Native Infantry in India for service at Hong-Kong in accordance with the Royal Warrant of the 27th November 1891.

2. The title of the Battalion will be "The Hong-Kong Regiment."

3. The regiment will be raised at Jhelum, and will consist of 4 companies Punjabi Mahomedans, 2 companies Pathans, 2 companies Hindustani Mahomedans; the classes to be enlisted being left to the discretion of the commanding officer. The standard of height and chest measurement will be the same as that laid down for recruits for the Bengal Army (paragraph 2200, Army Regulations, India, Vol. II).

4. The following will be the establishment of the regiment:—

1	Commandant
2	Wing commanders.
5	Wing officers (including adjutant and quartermaster).
8	European officers.
8	Subadars.
9	Jemadars (including the assistant adjutant).
17	Native officers.
8	Pay havildars.
1	Drill havildar.
1	Quartermaster havildar.
1	Armourer havildar.

870	Privates.
987	Native non-commissioned officers and men.
1,012	Total of all ranks.

5. The medical establishment (which is not to form part of the regimental establishment) will consist of—

1 Medical officer (Medical Staff).
1 Apothecary (1st grade).
1 Senior hospital assistant.
1 Hospital assistant.

The following will be temporarily entertained and may accompany the regiment to China at discretion of the commanding officer, but the question of their permanent retention, as well as of the rates of pay to be drawn by them after arrival at Hong-Kong, will be settled by the local authorities:—

2 Cooks
2 Bhisties
2 Sweepers
} At Native Infantry followers' rates plus 50 per cent. for the voyage.

6. The apothecary will receive an allowance of R100 or 44$ a month, in addition to his Indian pay and allowances of R200 or 88$, also free quarters or compensation in lieu.

The hospital assistants will be seconded in their present grades and will receive pay at the following rates, also free quarters or compensation in lieu :—

—	Per mensem. India.	Per mensem. Hong-Kong.
	R
Senior hospital assistant	100	44 $	Including extra pay for English qualification.
Hospital assistant, 1st grade	80	35 $ or
Hospital assistant, 2nd grade	60	26½ $

The terms of service of the apothecary and hospital assistants will be five years, with the privilege of extending their service at the end of that period. For pension privileges they will come under the Indian Regulations.

7. Of the seventeen Native officers required for the Hong-Kong Regiment, nine will be appointed from the Native Army, the remaining eight vacancies being filled by the promotion of men transferred as havildars or by granting direct commissions to Native gentlemen.

8. Of the 987 non-commissioned officers and men required for the battalion, 50 per cent. of Pathans and Punjabi Mahomedans and 75 per cent. of Hindustani Mahomedans will be obtained from Native Infantry regiments of the Bengal Army and Punjab Frontier Force.

9. Officers commanding regiments in which there are men of the required classes are authorized to submit the names of any Native officers, non-commissioned officers or men who are desirous of, and who can be recommended for, transfer to the Hong-Kong Regiment either in their present or in a higher rank. The rolls of such volunteers should be submitted to Major E. G. Barrow, the commandant of the regiment, and should contain particulars as to caste, age, service, character, field services, etc., also the rank in which the transfer is recommended. The number of volunteers is limited to 30 per regiment. All volunteers should have less than eleven years' service, but Native officers, non-commissioned officers and buglers of over that service may be taken.

All previous service in India will be allowed to count as qualifying for pension at the end of twenty-one years, but no officer or soldier will be taken unless he engages to serve for at least five years.

10. Free passage by rail to Jhelum is authorised for transfers of any rank.

11. No arms, accoutrements or clothing will be taken by transfers. In respect to clothing and necessaries and half-mounting balances, the men transferred will be treated in the same way as men discharged.

12. The rates of pay for Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men are as follow :—

" 23 " " . . . . Five "
" 28 " " . . . . Six "

To every good-conduct badge shall be attached good-conduct pay at one cent per diem.

17. With regard to deferred pay, clothing, rations, and equipment, Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Hong-Kong Regiment will be placed on a similar footing to the Asiatic Artillery at Hong-Kong.

18. The term of service will be for five years, with the option of re-engagement on entering the fifth year. Recruits will be attested under the Army Act, and volunteers from the Indian Army will be re-attested under that Act. The men will be enlisted for general service in India and elsewhere.

19. The corps will be subject to the provisions of the Army Act.

20. The formation of a band is postponed pending further orders.

21. Furlough will be granted to 20 per cent. of the men annually, commencing a year after they join at Hong-Kong; free passage by sea and railway conveyance to and from the nearest point to the men's homes will be granted.

22. The uniform laid down for the regiment is scarlet with yellow facings, and khaki in the hot weather, but British officers will wear white at mess and on garrison duties in the hot weather.

The cloth clothing will be issued by the Army Clothing Department, Alipore.

23. The equipment will be the same as is in use in the Bengal Army, brown leather belts, etc., and will be supplied by the Ordnance Department in India.

Arms will be supplied from England for the regiment, and will be issued as soon as received.

Tentage.—To meet the case of detachments, sanitary camps, etc., Indian Native infantry general service tents for 25 per cent. of the strength of the regiment will be taken from India.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

MANIPUR.

No. 132.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication, in continuation of G. G. O. No. 585 of 1891, of the following correspondence :—

No. 547-M.—"Field Operations-Manipur",—dated Simla, 31st December, 1891.

From—The Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

With reference to this office No. $\frac{423}{M.}$, dated 11th July, 1891, I have the honour, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward extracts from a letter* from Brigadier-General Sir H. Collett, K.C.B., Commanding the Assam District, bringing to notice the good services rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel St. J. F. Michell, Assistant Quarter Master General, Manipur Field Force, during the advance on, and occupation of, Manipur; and to recommend that, in consideration of the strong representation made by Brigadier-General Collett, Lieutenant-Colonel Michell's name may be added to the list of those mentioned in paragraph 13 of Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick's despatch, dated 3rd May, 1891, published in Government General Order No. 585, dated 19th June, 1891.

* No. 518, dated 8th December, 1891.

No. 518, dated Shillong, the 8th December, 1891.

From—BRIGADIER-GENERAL H. COLLETT, C.B.,

To—The Adjutant General in India.

As to Colonel Michell's services while with the Silchar Column, Colonel Rennick of course can alone speak, but from the 27th April, the date of the occupation of Manipur, Colonel Michell worked directly under me as Assistant Quarter Master General, and I beg to bring his services during that time to His Excellency's favourable consideration.

His duties were exceptionally important and onerous owing to the outbreak of cholera; he also served as President of the Committee which examined and, as far as possible, identified the remains of the murdered officers, and placed them in a new grave in the Residency compound. This duty was most painful and disagreeable, and Colonel Michell performed it in a most thorough and satisfactory manner. He also served as President of the Court to try the Ex-Regent, the Jubraj, and other State prisoners, and performed this difficult duty with judgment and discretion, and in a completely satisfactory manner.

GENERAL ORDERS.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Simla, the 29th April, 1892.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

HÚNZA.

No. 397.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the subjoined letter from the Adjutant-General in India submitting a despatch from Lieutenant-Colonel A. G. A. Durand, British Agent in Gilgit, Commanding the Húnza-Nagar Field Force, in which are described the operations of the force between the 30th November 1891 and 10th January 1892.

2. The object of the expedition was to disperse the gatherings of Húnza and Nagar tribesmen which were threatening the Kashmir fort of Chalt and the road between Chalt and Gilgit, and generally to bring under control the Húnza and Nagar chiefs who had broken their engagements with the British Agent, and had long acted in open defiance of their nominal superior, the Maharaja of Kashmir. These objects have been fully attained.

3. The Governor-General in Council cordially endorses the approval expressed by the Commander-in-Chief in India of the energy displayed in carrying out the operations in this exceptionally mountainous and difficult region, and of the gallantry shown both in the attack on the fort of Nilt and subsequently on the 20th December in storming the almost inaccessible position held by the enemy. The greater part of the troops engaged in this thoroughly successful expedition were supplied by those corps of the Kashmir army which His Highness the Maharaja has loyally reorganised for Imperial Service, and it is with special gratification that the Governor-General in Council has observed the good spirit displayed by these troops on this the first occasion of their employment against an enemy for an object of Imperial interest.

4. His Excellency in Council desires to convey to Lieutenant-Colonel Durand and to all the officers and troops employed the acknowledgments of the Government of India for the excellent service rendered by them on this occasion.

No. 2130-A—Field Operations,—dated Fort William, 24th March, 1892.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL W. GALBRAITH, C.B., Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a despatch, with enclosures, from Brevet-Major and local Lieutenant-Colonel A. G. A. Durand, Indian Staff Corps, British Agent in Gilgit, describing the operations of the Húnza-Nagar Force between 30th November 1891 and 10th January 1892, and to express His Excellency's warm approbation of the manner in which the expedition was conducted.

2. In assembling and provisioning his troops in a thinly populated region of mountains and glaciers devoid of supplies, Lieutenant-Colonel Durand had to encounter very great difficulties, augmented by an unusually early winter, which closed many of the passes, and, but for his energy and resource, would have involved the postponement of all movements for several months. He was further deprived at the outset of the services of his second-in-command, Captain Barrett, 1st Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles, and a number of his men, who were disabled by frost-bite. By the 29th November, however, all arrangements were completed, and on the 1st December he entered Nagar territory, and the next day captured the strong fort of Nilt, as more fully described in the enclosures to my No. 279-F-C of the 13th January 1892. In this brilliant affair he was severely wounded, and obliged to make over command to Captain Bradshaw, 35th (Sikh) Bengal Infantry.

3. For some days the obstacles to a further advance proved insurmountable, but a practicable path was at length discovered by Sepoy Nagdú of the Kashmir Body-Guard Regiment, and on the 20th December the position was carried by Captain (now local Major) Colin Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders, with a loss of only two men wounded, the enemy suffering severely. This success was promptly followed up, and Major Mackenzie occupied Nagar on the 21st and Húnza on the 22nd, when all opposition ceased.

4. Despite the inclemency of the season the health of the troops was excellent, and their conduct all that could be desired.

His Excellency notices with satisfaction the good services rendered by the soldiers of the Kashmir regiments, who on this the first occasion of the employment of Imperial Service Troops in the field gained the confidence of the officers and men of the Indian Army with whom they were associated.

5. The conspicuous gallantry displayed by Captain Aylmer, Royal Engineers, and Lieutenants Boisragon and Badcock, 1st Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles, at the storming of Nilt, and by Lieutenant J. Manners Smith in leading the advance on the 20th December, has already been reported,*and separate recommendations will hereafter be submitted in regard to other officers; but I am desired by the Commander-in-Chief to bring more particularly to the favorable notice of the Government of India the services of Lieutenant-Colonel Durand, Indian Staff Corps; Surgeon-Major Robertson, Indian Medical Service; and Major C. J. Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders.

6. The despatches having been so long delayed, it seems necessary to point out that in consequence of the difficulty of communication between Húnza, Gilgit, and India, they only reached the British Resident in Kashmir on the 17th instant, and were forwarded by him the same day to the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department.

No. 249, dated Gilgit, 27th January and 6th February 1892.

From—Lieutenant-Colonel A. G. A. Durand, Commanding Húnza-Nagar Field Force,

To—The Adjutant-General in India (through the Resident in Kashmir).

I have the honor to submit the following despatch on the Húnza-Nagar Expedition for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

2. The Húnza-Nagar Field Force was embodied on the 30th November at Chalt, the fort at the boundary of Kashmir territory to the north of Gilgit.

The force was composed as under:

	British officers.	Native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men.
Section of No. 4 (Hazara) Mountain Battery	2	76
1-5th Gurkha Rifles	2	188
Bengal Sappers and Miners	1	7
20th (Punjab) Bengal Infantry	...	18
Gatling gun detachment, 20th (Punjab) Bengal Infantry	1	10
Signallers	...	12
1st Kashmir Infantry	2	377
2nd Kashmir Rifles	3	484
Total	11	1,172
Punial Levy	1	159
	12	1,031

Accompanying the force were 200 Pathan road coolies under Mr. Charles Spedding, with a strong European staff placed at the disposal of Government by Mr. Spedding to make roads.

3. The Staff consisted of—

Lieutenant-Colonel A. G. A. Durand.	Commanding.
Captain R. H. Twigg, 12th (Khelat-i-Ghilzai) Bengal Infantry.	Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General.
Captain C. J. Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders, Aide-de-Camp to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.	Deputy Assistant Quarter-master-General.
Captain F. J. Aylmer, R.E.	Commanding Royal Engineers.
Lieutenant J. Manners Smith.	Political Officer.
Captain W. H. M. Stewart.	Political Officer.
Lieutenant F. Duncan, 23rd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers).	Transport Officer.
Lieutenant C. S. Williams, 43rd Bengal Infantry (Gurkha Rifles).	Commissariat Officer.
Surgeon-Captain J. R. Roberts, Indian Medical Service.	Principal Medical Officer.
General Suram Chand .	Commanding Kashmir Troops at Gilgit.
Kashmírú . . .	Brigade-Major, Gilgit.

4. On the 1st December, the force, strength as below, crossed the Húnza river into Nagar territory:

	British officers.	Fighting men.
Section of Hazara Mountain Battery	2	76
1-5th Gurkha Rifles	2	188
Bengal Sappers and Miners	1	7
20th (Punjab) Bengal Infantry	...	18
Gatling gun detachment, 20th (Punjab) Bengal Infantry	1	10
Signallers	...	12
1st Kashmir Infantry	2	257
2nd Kashmir Rifles	3	404
Total	11	872
Punial Levy	1	159

5. On the 2nd December the force advanced and captured the fort of Nilt, the first in Nagar territory. The fort was one of great strength, placed at the junction of two precipitous cliffs several hundred feet high, which form the banks of the Húnza river, and of a great ravine which here runs into it. Owing to the configuration of the ground, the fort could not be properly seen till the force was within 300 yards of it. The walls of the fort were of solid stone, cemented by mud and strengthened by large timbers. In front of the main wall ran a loop-holed wall completely hiding the gate-way; before this again was a very deep ditch encumbered with abattis, and a broad band of abattis filled the space intervening between the ditch and a precipitous spur projecting from the mountain above into the narrow strip of cultivated land before the fort. Although this hill was crowned with infantry, guns could not be taken up, and the fire of the infantry could not touch the defenders of the fort, who were under perfect cover. The attack had therefore to be delivered straight to the front over a space narrowing to a width of about sixty yards. The guns, though admirably served, could make no impression on the walls, and the fort was assaulted by the detachment of the 1-5th Gurkha Rifles, and carried after Captain Aylmer, Royal Engineers, had blown in the main gate. The gallantry of this officer and of Lieutenants Boisragon and Badcock of the 1-5th Gurkha Rifles has been made the subject of separate representation. The brunt of the fighting fell on the detachment 5th Gurkha Rifles, for from the nature of the ground the troops in support could be of little use. The Gurkhas behaved with their usual gallantry and dash, and the Kashmir Imperial Service Troops showed remarkable coolness in this their first action. The casualties amounted to three British officers wounded, three men killed, three mortally wounded, and one Native officer and twenty-two non-commissioned officers and men wounded. Eleven men of the Gurkhas and Sappers who displayed particular bravery have been recommended for the Order of Merit. The enemy's loss was over 80 killed and many wounded.

6. I had given orders that Captain C. J. Mackenzie, who with 20 men of the 20th Bengal Infantry and the Punial Levy under their own Rajas, directed by Lieutenant J. Manners Smith, should, after seizing the heights above the fort, attempt to cross the great ravine and turn the enemy's position, and that the moment the fort fell, the Body-Guard Regiment of the Imperial Service Troops, who were in reserve, should follow the flying enemy and carry any defences on the opposite bank of the nala. The precipitous sides of the ravine, the paths in which had been destroyed by the enemy, prevented Captain Mackenzie from carrying out my intention; while Captain Bradshaw, who succeeded to the command when I was wounded, came to the conclusion that any forward move was that day impossible.

7. The force was, therefore, halted for the night at Nilt. In front of it was the great ravine running from the river-bed to the glaciers some thousands of feet above. The far bank was lined with sangars, which commanded every possible track up it. Its height varies from six hundred feet, where it joins the river bank, to twelve hundred feet, and it is absolutely precipitous. To the left of the force ran the Húnza river, on the opposite bank of which was the strongly fortified place of Mayun, standing on the high cliff of the river, and full of men. Half a mile up the river, on the left bank, was a strongly fortified ziárat, from which to the junction of the great ravine ran one continuous line of sangars. During the night all the sangars were strongly reinforced, and those exposed to shell fire were provided with such heavy roofs as to defy the seven-pounders.

On our side the edge of the ravine was held by a line of picquets up to the snow line, the Punial Levy holding the upper positions.

8. On the morning of the 3rd December an advance was attempted, but after a loss of one man killed and seven wounded, including Lieutenant Gorton, Royal Artillery, was abandoned. Every sangar on the opposite hill was held in great force; the path leading down from the fort was precipitous, impassable for mules, and swept from end to end by a searching fire; while the path by which the enemy had fled the day before, and which ran up a cliff on to the cultivated land above the river, had been broken away and encumbered with abattis. It was, moreover, barred by a large sangar, holding about a hundred men, which during the night had been so strengthened as to be bomb-proof.

9. The position was one of great difficulty. The force was very small, and before it was an enemy many times more numerous than itself, holding a position of enormous natural strength and heavily entrenched. To attack the lower sangar with any chance of success seemed impossible, while an advance up the river-bed against the strongly fortified ziárat position under a raking cross fire from both banks of the river, though feasible with a large force, must have led to very heavy loss; and a very heavy loss, which would necessarily have involved many casualties amongst the British officers, already none too many, was not to be faced, except as the last resource.

10. For seventeen days the little force therefore remained stationary. It was evident that only two courses remained—the first to transfer the force to the right bank of the river and storm Mayun; the second to storm the opposite bank of the ravine. A force was crossed on the night of the 12th December to capture Mayun, but the attempt offered such difficulties in the darkness that it was given up. Night after night a few men of the Body-Guard Regiment, who volunteered for the dangerous service, explored the precipice for a road. The task was one of great danger, for at the least noise a heavy fire was opened, and, what was far more dangerous, avalanches of rock, started by the holders of the sangars above, thundered down the cliff into the ravine below.

11. During this enforced inactivity the conduct of the troops was all that could be desired; and, despite the depressing effect which a check in the face of the enemy must exercise, they showed the most soldierly spirit, the Gurkhas, Ragu Pertab, and Body-Guard all claiming to share the dangers of exploring the cliff face.

12. After many nights of patient searching, a Dogra sepoy of the Body-Guard Regiment named Nagdú, whose bravery and perseverance deserve special mention, discovered a practicable path, and an assault was resolved on. The command had devolved on Captain Colin J. Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders, in the temporary absence of Captain Bradshaw, who had come to Gilgit to see me on the question of supply.

13. During the night of the 19th December a hundred men of the Body-Guard were moved silently into the ravine, accompanied by Lieutenants J. Manners Smith and Taylor, the former of whom was to lead the assault. Captain Mackenzie's report on the operations of the 20th and subsequent days is attached, and gives an excellent description of the operation. On the morning of the 20th four parties of picked shots were moved on to our bank of the ravine, and with the guns opened such a well-aimed fire on the four sangars guarding the path by which the storming party was to ascend, that not a man could show himself. Shortly after the fire was opened, Lieutenant Smith led off his party of 50 men, followed by Lieutenant Taylor with the rest. At first a wrong direction was taken, and after an arduous climb Lieutenant Smith found his way barred by a sheer precipice absolutely impassable for his men; descending several hundred feet, he again led his men up, and after another hour of hard climbing neared the top. The fire had been so well directed that the holders of the sangars were unaware of the danger which threatened them until the small party was observed from Mayun, and word was passed across the river and up the mountain side. Showers of stones were then thrown from the inside of the sangars, and crashed down over the storming party; but it had by this time passed the most dangerous points on the cliff, and was in safety. Lieutenant Smith, collecting a handful of his men, dashed forward, carried the nearest sangar, and in so doing assured the success of the expedition; for, as more men arrived at the top of the cliff, sangar after sangar was carried, and the roof set fire to. The rising smoke was the signal for a general sauve qui peut; the defenders of Mayun streamed away in hundreds. Wazir Dadu and Raja Uzr Khan, the leaders of the Húnza and Nagar forces, fled from the ziárat, and did not halt till they had put the passes of the Hindu Kúsh between them and our troops; and the defenders of the positions on the Nagar bank broke up and fled for their homes. Our loss in this brilliant attack, led up a precipice, at this point, 1,200 feet in height, with consummate skill and daring by Lieutenant Smith, amounted to only two men wounded. The enemy's loss was heavy, and amounted to over 100 men killed and wounded, with 118 prisoners. A separate representation was forwarded by Captain Mackenzie while in command with reference to Lieutenant Smith's gallantry.

14. An immediate advance was made by the force, and receiving on the way the complete submission of the Raja of Nagar, Captain Mackenzie occupied Nagar on the 21st, and on the 22nd December, the Raja of Húnza having fled, the Húnza people made submission, and surrendered the Fort of Húnza into our hands.

15. All resistance being broken down, active operations ceased on the 22nd December 1891. The direction of affairs then passed to Mr. G. S. Robertson, Surgeon-Major, Indian Medical Department, the Chief Political Officer. Under his instructions a flying column followed the fugitives as far as Misgar, six marches up the valley.

16. I resumed command of the force on the 7th January 1892, and on the 10th January the Húnza-Nagar Field Force was broken up; and a sufficient garrison being left in the country, the head-quarters, with the section of the Hazara Mountain Battery and a detachment of the 1-5th Gurkhas, returned to Gilgit.

17. The conduct and discipline of the troops had throughout been admirable. As the officer to whom has fallen the honor of commanding a body of the Imperial Service Troops on the first occasion in which they have been called upon to fight in the interests of the Empire side by side with our own troops, it is with pride and pleasure that I would wish to draw special attention of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to the conduct of the Body-Guard and Ragu Pertab Regiments.

18. I have had these regiments under my orders for two years, and have seen them grow in efficiency under the careful instruction of Captain Twigg and Lieutenant Townshend, and the steady efforts of some of their own officers. The result has been most satisfactory, and they have proved themselves fit to take their place in line with our own regiments in frontier warfare.

19. They have shown coolness under fire and discipline in camp. The attack by the detachment of the Body-Guard Regiment on the sangars crowning the side of the ravine was a task to try the best regiment; and if the Ragu Pertab Regiment had not the opportunity of showing such high qualities, yet they showed no lack of keenness when they had a chance of meeting the enemy.

20. I had under my orders a picked body of officers, and they showed that they had not been selected for nothing.

Captain R. H. Twigg, 12th (Khelat-i-Ghilzai) Bengal Infantry, Staff Officer at Gilgit, was appointed Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General to the Force. The whole of the preparations for the expedition, involving, in the absence of all departmental officers, the consideration of all transport, commissariat, and ordnance details, passed through his hands. It is not too much to say that much of the success of the expedition was due to his untiring energy and tactful management previous to the opening of the expedition; while the manner in which he discharged his duties during the expedition met with the entire approval of the officers commanding. I wish to bring this officer most prominently to the notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

Captain C. J. Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders, Aide-de-Camp to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, was appointed Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General to the Force. He gave me and Captain Bradshaw, during the command of the latter, much valuable assistance in this capacity from his thorough knowledge of his duties. His determination and energy were of much value during the enforced inactivity of the force at Nilt. His brilliantly successful fight on the 20th December, which terminated the expedition, speaks for itself.

Captain F. J. Aylmer, Royal Engineers, did excellent work. His practical knowledge on an expedition where all scientific appliances were wanting was invaluable to the force. His gallantry in blowing open the gate of the Nilt Fort has been the subject of a separate recommendation.

Surgeon-Major G. S. Robertson, Indian Medical Department, succeeded me in the chief political charge. His intimate knowledge of the country and acquaintance with the people rendered his services extremely valuable. His refusal to treat with the Raja of Húnza, except after the latter's complete submission, did much during the halt of the force at Nilt to impress the rebellious chiefs and their followers with the hopelessness of continuing the struggle; while his judicious treatment of rajas and people when opposition ceased facilitated the subsequent pacification of the country.

Captain W. H. M. Stewart, Political Officer, acted as my galloper, and after I was wounded was employed in superintending the forwarding of supplies from Gilgit, which important work was executed most satisfactorily.

Lieutenant J. Manners Smith, Political Officer, was at first attached to the Puniali Levy. After the capture of Nilt, when the detachment of the 1-5th Gurkha Rifles had but one officer, he was attached to that corps, to which he had belonged. His gallantry in leading the attack on the heights on the 20th December has been reported on separately. In my opinion his leading the detachment of the Body-Guard Regiment on the 20th in the attack up the cliff deserves as great credit as the storming of the gate at Nilt. Indeed, until successful, it must have seemed more dangerous and difficult, and there are but few officers who would have been capable of finding a path and of rapidly leading men over such terrible ground.

Surgeon-Captain J. R. Roberts carried out the duties of Principal Medical Officer to my entire satisfaction. In the absence of many medical stores, &c., applied for from Kashmir for the use of the Imperial Service Troops, he improvised sick transport appliances for carrying stores, &c. His arrangements left nothing to be desired, and his medical skill and care for the wounded was shown by the success of his efforts.

21. The following officers attached to the Imperial Service Troops deserve mention:

Captain L. J. E. Bradshaw, 35th (Sikh) Bengal Infantry, on my being wounded, took command of the force, and remained in command till the 7th December.

Lieutenant C. V. F. Townshend, who for some months had superintended the drill and discipline of the Ragu Pertab Regiment, had brought them to a creditable decree of efficiency, as was shown by their good conduct and discipline in the field.

Lieutenant F. Duncan, 23rd Bengal Infantry (Pioneers), was attached to the Ragu Pertab Regiment on the forward movement of the troops. Previous to this, and during the expedition, he was in charge of the transport and commissariat. In addition to this, at Nilt, and subsequently owing to Captain Aylmer's being incapacitated by wounds, he performed the duties of field engineer very satisfactorily. He is most energetic and untiring in his exertions.

Lieutenant J. M'D. Baird, 24th Bengal Infantry, was attached to the Body-Guard Regiment. He was posted at Búnji in November, and had the whole responsibility of forwarding grain for the use of the force. Owing to the complete break down of the Kashmir contractors' arrangements, very little of the grain required for the troops had passed Búnji by the middle of November. In ten days Lieutenant Baird put the whole of the grain required by me previous to advancing over the Indus, which enabled me later to make a forward move. The excellent manner in which the Body-Guard Regiment was handled in the advance to Nagar from Nilt was largely due to his presence.

Lieutenant C. S. Williams, 43rd Bengal Infantry (Gurkha Rifles), attached to the Ragu Pertab Regiment, after the fight at Nilt was given the important command of the advanced base at Chalt, where he did uncommonly well. I have formed a very high opinion of his professional capacity.

Lieutenant G. T. Widdicombe, 9th Bengal Infantry, attached to the Ragu Pertab Regiment, was put in command of Nilt Fort from the date of its capture to the 26th December. He is very hard-working and capable.

Lieutenant F. H. Taylor, 3rd Sikh Infantry, attached to the Body-Guard Regiment, led his men well in the fight of the 20th, and shewed himself a cool-headed and reliable officer.

Lieutenant C. A. Molony, Royal Artillery, had been attached to the Kashmir Mountain Battery, and during the expedition, in which it did not at first take part, was in charge of the Gatling gun. After Lieutenant Gorton was wounded, he took charge of the section of the Hazara Mountain Battery. During the action at Nilt he brought the Gatling into action under a smart fire within 200 yards of the fort, and subsequently did good work with the guns.

Lieutenant G. H. Boisragon commanded the detachment of the 1-5th Gurkha Rifles, and shewed himself a model regimental officer. His gallantry and that of Lieutenant Badcock has been made the subject of a special recommendation.

Lieutenant R. St. G. Gorton, commanding the section of the Hazara Mountain Battery, brought his guns into action against Nilt Fort at a distance of 250 yards. He shewed marked coolness, and fought his guns as if on parade, his example being naturally followed by his men.

Surgeon-Captain H. B. Luard's skill and care will be remembered by all who passed under his hands.

22. Mr. E. F. Knight, who had accompanied the force in a private capacity, volunteered his services after the actions of the 2nd and 3rd December. They were gladly accepted owing to so many officers having been wounded. He proved a most valuable acquisition to the force, and is spoken of in high terms of praise by all the officers with whom he was associated.

23. General Suram Chand, who commands the Gilgit Brigade of Kashmir, was with the Imperial Service Troops, and gave every assistance in his power.

Major Kalé Khan, the Acting Wazír Wizarat of Gilgit, has rendered much valuable service in arranging for and forwarding supplies.

Major Makhan, Body-Guard Regiment, Commandant at Nomal, had incessant work in connection with the passage of stores to the front, and carried it out satisfactorily.

In the Ragu Pertab Regiment, Subadar Gulábú and Jemadar Kishan Singh were prominent, showing activity and efficiency in carrying out orders. I should strongly recommend these officers for promotion.

In the Body-guard Regiment, Adjutant Náin Singh in the frequent absence of the officer commanding owing to indisposition practically commanded the regiment. He is most efficient, and I should strongly recommend him for the command.

Subadar Mán Singh commanded the fifty men led by Lieutenant Smith in the attack of the 20th. He was frequently selected to command parties where courage and steadiness were likely to be required. He is an officer whom I desire to recommend.

24. The following papers are attached:

(1) Captain Mackenzie's report on the action of the 20th December and on the movements of the force from 18th to 21st December.

(2) List of killed and wounded in the Húnza-Nagar Field Force.

No. 1, dated Camp Húnza, 28th December 1891.

From—Captain C. J. Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, Húnza-Nagar Field Force,

To—The Officer Commanding Húnza-Nagar Field Force.

I have the honor to report as under the operations of the Húnza-Nagar Field Force from the 18th to the 21st December, inclusive, while acting under my command.

During the 18th and 19th instant the force remained in camp, and the usual routine was observed. A parade of all the troops was held on the 19th instant, and a telegram from His Highness the Maharajah of Kashmir read out conveying his congratulations on the success obtained on the 2nd instant, when the fort of Nilt was taken by assault.

On the 19th December, at 7 P.M., 100 rifles of the Body-Guard Regiment (2nd Kashmir Rifles) paraded under Lieutenants J. Manners Smith and F. H. Taylor, and under cover of darkness moved across the exposed ground to the north of the fort and up into the nala beyond. This movement was performed so silently that the enemy were unaware of its having taken place. The party took their great-coats and blankets, and remained in the nala all night, and when daylight broke, owing to their position and the precipitous slopes on each side, they were still effectually concealed from the enemy's view. Cooked rations for the 20th instant were carried in the havresacks. Of this detachment of 100 rifles, Lieutenant Smith with 50 rifles was to form the advance of the storming party, and Lieutenant Taylor with the remaining 50 rifles to support. Each of these officers was furnished with written orders detailing the course of action to be pursued by them. The portion of the enemy's position which had been selected for attack was towards their extreme left and on the summit of a precipitous declivity, which, without a break, descended some 1,500 feet to the water in the bed of the ravine.

The whole of the force was directed to hold itself in readiness for a forward movement by 10 A.M. on the 20th instant, and orders issued regarding the storage and protection of tents and supplies remaining behind, supply of ammunition and rations to accompany the column, and guards for the line of communication and convoys.

At 6 A.M. on the 20th instant the following details paraded and took up a position on our side of the ravine, facing the enemy's sangars, viz., 25 rifles of the 20th Bengal Infantry under Mr. E. F. Knight (a volunteer accompanying the force), 50 rifles of the 1-5th Gurkha Rifles under Lieutenant Boisragon, 30 rifles of the Ragu Pertab Regiment (1st Jammu and Kashmir Infantry), under Lieutenant Townshend, 30 rifles of the Body-Guard Regiment under Lieutenant Baird and two guns of No. 4 (Hazara) Mountain Battery under Lieutenant Molony. The above were all selected shots, and, with the guns, were in position before daylight. It was considered necessary to keep all movements as secret as possible to prevent the enemy placing more than their ordinary garrison at the point to be attacked.

The sangars, which commanded the line of advance of the storming party, were four in number, and the covering party on the ridge were told off into four parties, whose fire was directed on these sangars. The distance was 400 to 600 yards, and the fire was so steady and well aimed that almost every shot hit the particular sangar it was directed at, and prevented to a great extent any return fire; while it was equally impossible for any of the enemy to leave a sangar to hurl down stones, though, in fact, a considerable number were thrown from inside these sangars from those parts of them which were not roofed over. The fire of the guns was also directed on these four sangars.

The loopholes of Nilt Fort were lined at 7-45 A.M., and the dispositions generally were such as to prevent the enemy retiring from, or reinforcing, any particular sangar.

At 7-55 A.M. fire was opened on the sangars. Lieutenant Smith, after ascending the precipice half-way, was obliged to return to where he originally started from, having accidentally got on to a place which was quite impracticable, and rather to the north of that previously selected. However, at 10 A.M. the ascent was recommenced, and on this occasion by the right line. Foot by foot and yard by yard the perilous ascent was made, and the summit was eventually reached at 11-30 A.M. Lieutenant Smith manœuvred his small party in the most admirable manner, moving them from point to point as opportunity offered, and the showers of stones from above permitted. The first sangar was successfully attacked and captured. Lieutenant Taylor's party now commenced the ascent, and on attaining the summit, in combination with the first party, they attacked all the sangars in succession and cleared them of the enemy, whose line was now completely turned and taken in flank. The garrisons of the ziárat and of the fort of Mayun now streamed out of those places in full flight. Their numbers were respectively estimated at 100 and 400 men. Had they not fallen back, their retreat must have been quite cut off. Owing to the distance from Nilt, they were enabled to effect this movement with slight loss.

The guns and details of 135 rifles on the ridge were now withdrawn, and fell back on the camp. At 1-20 A.M. the force was formed up, and a general advance ordered. The road led round by the north of the fort down into the ravine, and up the opposite bank, through the large sangar, in which 92 prisoners were taken, including two wounded. Some time was taken up in removing the eight feet of stones and wood built up behind the door of this sangar. All the prisoners, 118 in number, were sent back immediately to Chalt, escorted by the detachment of the 20th Bengal Infantry under Mr. Knight, who had instructions to rejoin the main body again without delay.

The Ragu Pertab Regiment in advance marched directly on the Thol Fort, throwing out left flanking parties towards the ziárat and the sangars near it, which were taken at the point of the bayonet. Twenty-two of the enemy were killed here. Lieutenant Townshend occupied Thol, and had orders as to his subsequent movements and disposition of guards at important points.

The Puniali Levy, 65 in number, crossed the river at Nilt on the mashak raft, and occupied Mayun very soon after it had been evacuated, and afterwards reported that they had killed ten of the enemy there. They subsequently advanced along the Húnza bank of the river and destroyed the defences of the fort at Hini, having previously levelled those of Mayun.

The 5th Gurkha Rifles, under Lieutenant Boisragon, now formed the advance guard, and our left being, protected by the river, a right flanking party of 50 rifles of the 5th Gurkhas under a native officer moved up the heights on that flank, and held them during the night; a few of the enemy were seen, and fired on on these heights. Gulmit was reached and occupied by a small guard, the remainder of the force pushing on and reaching Pisan at dusk.

Just west of Pisan is the strong position of the Gall Pari, but it was not held, and the pursuit was so rapidly pushed that some men were fired on at this place while retreating.

Pisan is estimated to be some seven miles from Nilt.

The path over the ravine at Nilt was not practicable for guns, but Lieutenant Molony with a sufficient escort was instructed to advance as soon as it could be made so. With eight mules carrying the guns and carriages, the ammunition being carried on coolies, Lieutenant Molony joined me at Pisan at 3 A.M. on the 21st instant.

The baggage with an ample guard was ordered to follow the main body with all despatch.

The villages had been set on fire by the enemy as they retreated.

The night at Pisan passed without incident, one of the picquets firing on some men who tried to approach. Ample supplies of áta and meat were procured from the interior of the fort, and a full ration served out to all the troops.

Our casualties during the 20th instant had been two sepoys of the Body-Guard Regiment wounded. The enemy's loss on the Nagar side of the river was about 100 killed (this number has received confirmation from local native sources of information) and 118 prisoners. Their wounded they carried away.

At dawn on the 21st instant the advance was resumed, the total force consisting of 100 of the 1-5th Gurkha Rifles, 250 of the Body-Guard Regiment, and two guns of No. 4 (Hazara) Mountain Battery. The baggage had not come up, but supplies were obtainable ahead, and ammunition accompanied regiments and corps on coolies. A few miles beyond Pisan a letter was received by Surgeon-Major G. S. Robertson, Indian Medical Service, the Political Officer, from Jafr Ali Khan, the Thum of Nagar, who said he was waiting at the village of Fike to tender his submission. An answer was sent to him saying that the force was advancing on Nagar, and that Mr. Robertson would interview the Thum at Fike as he desired.

From Fike the march was continued to Nagar, which was eventually reached at 6 P.M. The road was a very trying one for troops, and full of steep ascents and descents. When any occasion was afforded of doing so, fire was opened on the enemy on the Húnza bank of the river. The distance from Pisan to Nagar is estimated to be twenty-one miles.

Before reaching Nagar, Mr. Robertson received letters from Húnza, which stated that the people on that side of the river were prepared to submit. This was considered possible, and, as any delay in the occupation of the fort at Húnza was unadvisable, I issued orders for Captain Twigg to cross the river and take possession of it with the 5th Gurkhas. This was satisfactorily accomplished by 2 P.M. on the 22nd instant.

The troops, though fatigued by the day's exertion, were in excellent health and spirits. Lieutenant Townshend, with the head-quarters of his regiment, the detachment of the 20th Bengal Infantry, a detachment (50 rifles) of the 5th Gurkhas, and all the baggage, reached Samaya, a village about five miles west of Nagar, on the morning of the 22nd instant.

I have to thank especially the following officers for their cordial co-operation and assistance:

Captain Twigg, the Senior Staff Officer, whose valuable aid I take this opportunity of gratefully acknowledging.

Lieutenants Townshend and Baird, commanding respectively the Ragu Pertab and Body-Guard Regiments.

Lieutenant Duncan, the Commissariat and Transport Officer.

Lieutenants J. Manners Smith (whose conduct I have made the subject of a special report) and Taylor, whose united storming parties turned the enemy's formidable position at Nilt.

Lieutenant Molony, Royal Artillery, and Mr. E. F. Knight.

Surgeon-Captain Roberts, Indian Medical Service, Principal Medical Officer.

WAR OFFICE,
12th July, 1892.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following appointment to the Most Honourable Order of the Bath in recognition of the services of the undermentioned officer during the recent operations in Hunza and Nagar :

To be an Ordinary Member of the Military Division of the Third Class or Companion of the said Most Honourable Order,—

Captain and Brevet Major (having the local rank of Lieutenant-Colonel whilst employed on the Gilgit Frontier) Algernon George Arnold Durand, Indian Staff Corps.

The Queen has further been pleased to give orders for the following appointment to the Distinguished Service Order and promotions in the Army in recognition of the services of the undermentioned officers during the recent operations in Hunza and Nagar :

To be Companion of the Distinguished Service Order, viz.,—

Lieutenant Francis Frederick Badcock, Indian Staff Corps, in recognition of his gallant conduct at the capture of the Nilt Fort.

BREVET.

To be Lieutenant-Colonel.

Captain and Brevet Major (having the local rank of Lieutenant-Colonel whilst employed on the Gilgit Frontier) Algernon George Arnold Durand, Indian Staff Corps.

To be Majors.

Captain (having the local rank of Major whilst employed in Gilgit) Colin John Mackenzie, Seaforth Highlanders (Ross-shire Buffs, The Duke of Albany's).

Captain Robert Henry Twigg, Indian Staff Corps.

These brevet promotions to bear date of 27th April 1892.

WAR OFFICE,
12th July, 1892.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross upon the undermentioned officers of Her Majesty's Army, whose claims have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, for the conspicuous bravery displayed by them during the recent operations in the Hunza and Nagar country on the Gilgit frontier in December 1891 as recorded against their names :

Corps.	Name.	Act of courage for which recommended.
Royal Engineers	Captain Fenton John Aylmer.	For his conspicuous bravery in the assault and capture of the Nilt Fort on 2nd December 1891. This officer accompanied the storming party, burst open the inner gate with gun-cotton, which he placed and ignited, and though severely wounded, once in the leg and twice in the right hand, fired nineteen shots with his revolver, killing several of the enemy, and remained fighting until, fainting from loss of blood, he was carried out of action.
Indian Staff Corps.	Lieutenant Guy Huddleston Boisragon.	For his conspicuous bravery in the assault and capture of the Nilt Fort on 2nd December 1891. This officer led the assault with dash and determination, and forced his way through difficult obstacles to the inner gate, when he returned for reinforcements, moving intrepidly to and fro under a heavy cross-fire until he had collected sufficient men to relieve the hardly pressed storming party and drive the enemy from the fort.
Indian Staff Corps.	Lieutenant John Manners Smith.	For his conspicuous bravery when leading the storming party at the attack and capture of the strong position occupied by the enemy near Nilt, in the Hunza-Nagar country, on the 20th December 1891. The position was, owing to the nature of the country, an extremely strong one, and had barred the advance of the force for seventeen days. It was eventually forced by a small party of 50 rifles, with another of equal strength in support. The first of these parties was under the command of Lieutenant Smith, and it was entirely owing to his splendid leading, and the coolness, combined with dash, he displayed while doing so, that a success was obtained. For nearly four hours, on the face of a cliff which was almost precipitous, he steadily moved his handful of men from point to point, as the difficulties of the ground and showers of stones from above gave him an opportunity, and during the whole of this time he was in such a position as to be unable to defend himself from any attack the enemy might choose to make. He was the first man to reach the summit within a few yeards of one of the enemy's sangars, which was immediately rushed, Lieutenat Smith pistolling the first man.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Simla, the 14th October, 1892.

ORGANISATION.

NATIVE ARMY.

No. 976.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 537 of 1891, it is notified that the conversion of the 26th Bombay Infantry will take place with effect from the 1st November 1892, and that the native officers, non-commissioned officers and men now serving in this corps will be disposed of in the manner hereinafter stated.

2. The men entertained for the reorganised regiment will be enlisted for general service, but, except on emergency or when required for field service, they will be required to serve only above the passes in Baluchistan or on the frontier.

3. The 26th Bombay Infantry will be recruited from Pathans and other tribes within the limits and on the borders of the Baluchistan Agency, and its composition will be generally similar to that of the 24th Bombay Infantry.

4. The strength of the regiment will be as laid down in G. G. O. No. 537 of 1891, paragraph 7.

5. Paragraphs 8 to 10 and 12 to 14 of G. G. O. No. 537 of 1891 inclusive are applicable to the 26th Bombay Infantry.

6. The pay and allowances for the native ranks will be the same as for the rest of the Bombay army, and they will receive in addition rations in kind or the money allowance now granted in lieu of free rations to native troops serving in Baluchistan.

7. Soldiers serving in the 26th Bombay Infantry will be liable to transfer to any battalion to which they may hereafter be linked, as the exigencies of the service may require.

8. The native officers, non-commissioned officers and men now serving in the 26th Bombay Infantry will cease to be borne on the rolls thereof from the 1st November 1892, and will be disposed of as follows :

(a) Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men who have completed 25 years' service and upwards will be transferred to the pension establishment on the superior rates of pensions specified in article 500 (a), Army Regulations, India, vol. I, part II.

(b) Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men who have completed 14 years' service and have less than 25 years' service will be transferred to the pension establishment on the ordinary rates of pension, with a bonus of one month's pay (including good-conduct pay) for every two years' service.

(c) Native officers, non-commissioned officers and men of more than 10 and less than 14 years' service, with the exception of those sepoys who may be permitted to volunteer for other regiments or the reserve, will be transferred to the pension establishment on two-thirds of the ordinary rate of pension and a bonus of three months' pay (including good-conduct pay).

(d) Non-commissioned officers and men of 5 and less than 10 years' service, with the exception of those sepoys who may be permitted to volunteer for other regiments or the reserve, will receive on discharge a gratuity of one month's pay for each year of service, together with an additional bonus of three months' pay as above.

(e) Non-commissioned officers and men of less than 5 years' service, with the exception of those sepoys who may be permitted to volunteer for other regiments or for the reserve, will be discharged with a gratuity of six months' pay.

9. The native officers and non-commissioned officers referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of paragraph 8 will receive on discharge the pensions therein laid down irrespective of the periods they may have served in their respective ranks.

10. Transfer to other regiments of the Bombay army or to the reserve will be permitted to carefully selected sepoys belonging to classes which it is considered desirable to retain on the terms allowed in the cases of the 33rd, 38th, 39th, and 40th Bengal Infantry in G. G. O. No. 1110 of 1890.

11. Free passes by rail to their homes will be given to all native officers, non-commissioned officers and men discharged on pension or gratuity under these orders.

12. The certified cost involved in change of uniform and equipment will be allowed to soldiers transferred to other regiments.

13. The restriction as to the number of men (160) permitted to belong to the reserve of any one battalion is temporarily suspended in regard to the sepoys of the 26th Bombay Infantry allowed to volunteer for the reserve.

14. Reservists of the present 26th Bombay Infantry will be allowed the option of joining the reserves of the battalions now linked to that regiment.

15. The British officers now serving with the regiment, unless they remain with the reorganised battalion or are transferred to other regiments, will be eligible to draw their present allowances up to, and for, the 30th November 1892.'

16. The band and other regimental institutions of the 26th Bombay Infantry will remain with the reorganised corps.

17. The uniform of the regiment will be the same as that now laid down for the Baluch battalions, a drab coat and pagri being substituted for those now worn.

18. The re-formed regiment will be armed with Martini-Henry rifles.

19. A band and pipers is sanctioned for the corps.

20. The reserve regulations will not be made applicable to the reorganised regiment for the present.

21. Any subsidiary orders that may be necessary to carry into effect the arrangements set forth above will be issued by the Government of Bombay and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Army.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

LUSHAI.

No. 977.—The Most Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the subjoined correspondence, including a letter from the Adjutant-General in India, submitting, under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief in India, reports received from the General Officer Commanding the Assam District describing the operations of the Eastern Sonai (Aijal) Column during the late rising in the Lushai Hills.

2. It is to be understood that the reports now published are not "despatches."

No. 3203-B,—"Field Operations—Lushai,"— dated Simla, the 5th October, 1892.

From—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

I am desired to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 5300-A,—"Field Operations—Lushai,"—dated the 20th August 1892, forwarding reports on the operations of the Eastern Sonai (Aijal) Column during the recent rising in the Lushai Hills.

2. With reference thereto, I am to say that the Government of India fully appreciate the good work done by the Aijal Column, and concur in the commendation bestowed on the officers named in your letter under reply.* I am further to express the satisfaction of the Government of India at the results achieved by the exertions of these officers and of the troops and police who took part in the operations.

* Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick, 18th Bengal Infantry.
Lieutenant Edwards, 18th Bengal Infantry.
Lieutenant Roddy, 42nd Gurkha Rifles.
Lieutenant Johnson, 1-5th Gurkha Rifles.
Surgeon-Captain Evans, 18th Bengal Infantry.

3. A copy of this letter will be forwarded to the Home Department with a request that an expression of the appreciation of the Government of India of the services of Captain Loch, Commandant, Surma Valley Military Police Battalion, who commanded the column, may be conveyed to that officer.

No. 5300-A,—"Field Operations—Lushai,"—dated Simla, the 20th August 1892.

From—The Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward the accompanying reports† on the operations of the Eastern Sonai (Aijal) Column during the recent rising in the Lushai Hills.

† Assam District memorandum No. 2263, dated 18th July 1892, with enclosures.
Assam District letter No. 706, dated 5th August 1892.

2. Lord Roberts concurs in the commendations bestowed by Brigadier-General Channer, C.B., V.C., Commanding the Assam District, on the following officers:

Lieutenant-Colonel R. H. F. Rennick, 18th Bengal Infantry.

Captain G. H. Loch, Commandant, Surma Valley Military Police Battalion.

Lieutenant R. M. Edwards, 18th Bengal Infantry.

Lieutenant H. H. Roddy, 42nd Gurkha Rifles.

Lieutenant C. R. Johnson, 1st Battalion, 5th Gurkha Rifles.

Surgeon-Captain J. F. Evans, M.B., 18th Bengal Infantry.

And I am to suggest that the Government of India may be pleased to express their approbation of the services rendered by these officers, and of the exertions of the troops and police under their command.

No. 246, dated Silchar, the 14th July 1892.

From—LIEUTENANT-COLONEL R. H. F. RENNICK, Commanding at Aijal,

To—The Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Assam District,

I have the honor to submit, for the information of the General Officer Commanding and such action as he may deem expedient to take, the accompanying report from Captain G. H. Loch, Commandant, Surma Valley Military Police Battalion, on the purely military operations of the Eastern Sonai (Aijal) Column during the recent rising in the Lushai Hills.

2. On the 31st March 1892 I had the honor of reporting to you on the march of the detachment of the 18th Bengal Infantry by the Rengti road to Changsil and Aijal, the timely arrival of which prevented the Western Lushais joining the Eastern Lushais in their rising.

The enemy were gathering in numbers all round as well as growing in boldness, as men were being shot down, two or three a day, at the water ghats in the jungles, within a hundred yards of the stockades, and on the line of communications.

3. The situation was most serious, and had to be faced. There was no use asking for further reinforcements, as they would not have reached in time, and the demand would have only alarmed Government and not helped us against the Lushais. Therefore, I determined with Mr. R. B. M'Cabe, Political Officer, North Lushai Hills, to at once clear the water ghats and the jungle round the stockades, to ensure our safety, and to complete the Sonai-Aijal road as soon as possible in order to assume the offensive before the rains had set in. The working parties of the 18th Bengal Infantry did most of this work, and made the better half of the Sonai-Aijal road, which hereafter proved so very useful. I also prevailed upon Mr. M'Cabe to give up his idea of proceeding south in two columns against Bungteya, and to attack the group of villages belonging to the powerful Poibois.

These facts have already been noted in my journal of the 30th March 1892, and have, I consider, in no small degree contributed to the success of the subsequent political and military operations.

4. From the date of the arrival of the detachment of the 18th Bengal Infantry at Changsil on the 17th March to the 10th June 1892 the men of both the 18th Bengal Infantry and the Surma Valley Military Police Battalion had a most arduous time of it for three months. The men on an average had a night in bed, and at times were on standing duty. They had to escort convoys, patrol roads and jungles, visit suspicious and refractory villages, keep up some fifty miles of line of communication, and to carry on a constant guerilla warfare. The men of both battalions most cheerfully answered all calls of duty, and behaved spendidly. I beg leave to bring their conduct to the special notice of the General Officer Commanding.

5. I have already noted from time to time in my journal, which I ceased to submit after the return of the Eastern Sonai Column to Aijal, the various measures I had taken at Aijal and Changsil to provide shelter and guard against sickness and also the efforts made to keep Mr. M'Cabe in the field as long as possible to enable him to make a finish of the political negotiations.

6. Captain Loch showed considerable ability, dash, and discretion in the conduct of all the operations and night marches in a country physically the most difficult in India troops were ever called upon to serve in, especially at a time of the year when the rainy season had set in. As an officer of the regular army, although in civil employ, I would beg leave to submit his name for the favorable consideration of the General Officer Commanding, as well as those of Lieutenants R. M. Edwards, 18th Bengal Infantry, and H. C. Tytler, 11th Bengal Infantry, and Surgeon-Captains J. F. Evans, M.B., and H. B. Melville, M.B., he mentions in his report.

7. I would also beg to mention the names of Captain G. S. Goldsmid, who held Changsil during a very trying part of the year, and carried out all orders and requisitions to my entire satisfaction; and Conductor Brown of the Commissariat Department, who had charge of the transport bullocks, and handled them judiciously.

No. 601.

Forwarded to the Adjutant-General in India. Colonel Rennick's report speaks for itself, and I presume that Mr. M'Cabe's report as Political Officer in charge of the Lushai operations will be sent in to Government, and a copy of it sent me. Until I receive that, I would prefer not making any remarks, except that from the duty state of the detachment of the 18th Bengal Infantry in Lushai I am able to state that Surgeon-Captain Evans must have paid most careful attention to the health of the troops,—an all-important factor in a climate like that of Lushai.

SHILLONG; The 19th July 1892. } G. N. CHANNER, Brigadier-General, Comdg. Assam District.

Dated Fort Aijal, North Lushai, the 29th July 1892.

From—CAPTAIN G. H. LOCH, Commandant, Surma Valley Military Police Battalion,

To—The Officer Commanding at Aijal.

I have the honor to submit the following report on the operations of the Eastern Sonai (Aijal) Column during the recent rising in the Lushai Hills.

The column was composed as follows:

75 rifles of the 18th Bengal Infantry, under Lieutenant Edwards;

225 rifles of the Military Police under Lieutenant Tytler, Assistant Commandant, Military Police, with Lieutenants Roddy, 42nd Gurkha Rifles, and Johnson, 5th Gurkha Rifles, attached to the Military Police;

Total 300

Surgeon-Captains Evans, 18th Bengal Infantry, and Melville, Civil Surgeon, North Lushai, accompanying the column as medical officers: 140 rounds of ammunition per man was taken,—75 carried by the men, 65 by the coolies in reserve. About 260 Khasia coolies provided the transport required.

The column left Aijal on the morning of 10th April, and marched to the Sonai river, distance twelve miles, camping on the banks of the stream. The enemy fired at the flanking parties of the advance guard on the road down, doing us no damage. On the 11th, about mid-day, Fort Lalbura was reached, the whole column with difficulty finding accommodation. On the night of the 12th the enemy fired several shots over the fort, doing no harm.

As the moon was full, it was decided to make a night march towards Poiboi's villages with a view, if possible, to surprise them. The column accordingly marched at 7-30 on the evening of the 12th. In order to draw off the enemy's attention, a force of 50 men, under a native officer, from the garrison of the fort, made a reconnaissance in the opposite direction to the march of the column, along the road to Bungteya's villages. They came across the enemy in some force, and, driving them back along the road, returned to the fort just before the march of the column.

The march of the latter along the road to Poiboi was much delayed owing to night-blindness amongst the coolies; so much so, that after 13½ hours' continuous marching the column found itself at 9 o'clock the next morning on the banks of the Tui Rini stream, still five miles and a half short of Poiboi's villages. As the coolies were tired out, a halt had to be called and camp formed on the banks. During the day a few of the enemy were seen to the west of the stream, and driven across the river.

At 2 o'clock on the night of the 14th camp was struck, and the advance on Poiboi continued. After a steep ascent of two miles and a half the enemy opened fire on the head of the column from a hill flanking the left of the road, and a short time afterwards from a stockade directly to our front. We kept down their fire by steady volleys from the main body of the 18th Bengal Infantry, and the advance guard of Military Police, after a few volleys, rushed the stockade in our front. Our casualties were one sepoy of the Military Police mortally wounded. The advance was continued up the ridge, but before the top was reached the enemy had succeeded in setting fire to the village of Labehnias, an outlying village of Poiboi's. The main village, at which greater resistance was expected, was about two miles distant, and after a short halt the advance was continued. A main stockade and two smaller flanking ones had been constructed by the enemy commanding the road. These were soon carried, the enemy only holding them in a half-hearted manner. As they bolted, the enemy set fire to the village in several places, and an advance of the column at the double was made to try and save accommodation for the troops. About 50 houses were saved out of 800—25 at each end of the village. As the north end was the better position of the two, it was decided to occupy it; the southern end was therefore burnt. From the 14th April to the 29th April the column halted at Poiboi's.

During that time small parties were out continuously, and destroyed all the grain that could be found. Large quantities were also found hidden in the village and burnt. Small parties of the enemy were frequently come cross by our parties and dispersed.

On the 25th April two parties of 75 rifles each—one under Lieutenant Edwards, 18th Bengal Infantry, with Lieutenant Roddy, and one under myself, with Lieutenant Tytler—left Poiboi's,—the former to scour the country near the Sonai as far as the site of the old Sonai bazar; and the latter, the valleys of the Chilfel range. Both parties returned on the 28th to Poiboi's, having been successful in surprising encampments of the enemy and capturing a large amount of live-stock, clothing, guns, dahs, &c.

On the 30th April the column left Poiboi's village, burning the houses which had been occupied. Rain had been descending steadily all the morning, making the marching heavy and difficult; one stream had to be crossed waist-high six times in two miles, and the crossing of the Tui Rini river occupied six hours, the only means of crossing being an old cane suspension bridge, which was so rotten that only half a dozen men could go across at one time. The column did not get into Lalbura Fort till 6 A.M. the next day, having been continuously on the march for twenty-three hours without a halt; but the men and transport stood it wonderfully well, not a man or a coolie falling out.

From the 1st to the 5th May the column halted at Fort Lalbura, preparing for the advance on Bungteya. Convoys had to be sent to the post on the Sonai to bring up rations required for the force. These were stored at Fort Lalbura, to be taken on subsequently to Bungteya.

Owing to sickness amongst the coolies, the force for Bungteya had to be reduced to 250 rifles. The moon again serving, it was decided to make another night march.

The column left Fort Lalbura at 7-30 on the evening of the 6th May, and at daybreak had got within six miles of Bungteya. After a short halt, to enable the troops to have some food, the advance continued. About three miles from Bungteya the first of a series of stockades was come across. Much judgment had been exercised by the enemy in the choice of positions for these stockades, and they were strongly and scientifically built. The enemy was evidently taken by surprise, as the first three stockades were not held. The fourth stockade was, however, occupied, and was for a time obstinately held. A rush by the advance guard of Military Police, closely supported by the 18th Bengal Infantry, covered by volleys from the main body, caused the enemy to abandon it and bolt, and they were pursued by a small party of Military Police down the hill-side. The road to the village, which lay some 1,000 feet below the ridge, and about 1,000 yards to the east of it, was now open. A party of the 18th was told off to fire long distance volleys on any groups of Lushais they might see in the village in order to prevent them setting fire to the houses. In the meanwhile the column descended the ravine, and, ascending the spurs leading to the village, captured it without difficulty.

The northern part of the village, being on an isolated knoll, and sufficient for the accommodation of the troops, was occupied; the remainder, consisting of about 350 houses, being burnt in the evening.

The column halted at Bungteya from the 7th to the 23rd May, pursuing the same tactics as at Poiboi's.

On the 11th May, a force of 100 rifles of the Military Police, under myself, surprised at night the village of Chinleya, and, camping in the village that night, returned the next day to Bungteya, bringing in the headmen of Chinleya.

On the 24th May, the column, leaving 75 rifles under Lieutenant Roddy to occupy Bungteya, marched to Saitol village, situated to the east of Bungteya, about twelve miles off. The reception at this village was friendly, the people supplying us with pigs, goats, &c. The next day the advance on Maité village was commenced at daybreak. An ascent of 2,000 feet brought us to the Saitol Klang ridge, whence the road runs along the crest towards Maité. We passed about 1,000 feet above the village of Chinleya, which the enemy commenced burning, evidently thinking that the village was our objective. At Maité, however, we knew that the Chief Lalbura had collected the remnant of his fighting men; so we left Chinleya to burn itself out. About six miles from Maité, at a very difficult and precipitous part of the path, the enemy had erected a strong stockade. Although they were in the act of completing it as we advanced (they were actually working on it), they held it for sometime, and it was with some difficulty that we could bring any front of fire to bear. The stockade was eventually rushed by the advance guard, without loss on our side. Leaving the stockade, the road led down a long spur, and across jhúmed land to Maité. At the ridge below the village the enemy were seen, and commenced shouting at us, saying they had no wish to fight; but as we knew this was only a ruse to gain time for their men to come up, we ascended the path to the village sending round a flanking party on our right. As we neared the top of the ridge, the Lushais opened a hot fire on us from an ambuscade on the left of the road, luckily without any casualties on our side. They were soon driven back, and the village, still half a mile away, was rushed at the double, the enemy firing at us from behind their houses and from the jungle flanking the village.

The column halted at Maité from the 26th to the 29th, sending out small parties daily and destroying large quantities of grain. A large number of goats, pigs, and mitun were shot in the village, and eaten by the troops and transport coolies.

On the 28th May a party of 80 rifles, under Lieutenant Edwards, surprised an encampment of the enemy on the site of old Maité village (ten miles to the north-east of Maité village), driving them off in the direction of Leukom.

The column left Maité on the 30th May, reaching Bungteya the same day.

On the 1st June Fort Lalbura was again reached, the column finally returning to Aijal on the 8th June, having been absent nearly two months.

In conclusion, I would point out that for the sake of brevity I have mentioned the bare outlines only of the operations. During the greater part of the time the weather was exceedingly unfavourable to the troops, and the manner in which the work was done, and the cheerful spirit in which difficulties and discomforts were faced by all ranks, was beyond all praise.

Though our casualties were few, it would be unfair to infer therefrom that the risks were not great. We had fighting against us a powerful combination of at least four of the strongest of the Eastern Sonai villages, who, at the lowest computation, could have put into the field 1,000 men, all armed with guns, and probably half as many again would not be beyond the mark.

I attribute the smallness of our loss entirely to the fact that our careful flanking, prompt rushing of stockades, and the numerous small parties sent out daily for a distance of some miles from our various halting-places demoralized the enemy, and gave them little or no time for concerted action.

Where all, both officers and men, behaved so well, it may be perhaps invidious to single out individuals; but I feel bound to mention particularly the names of Lieutenants Edwards, 18th Bengal Infantry, and Tytler, Military Police, who by their dash and promptitude in action ensured the success of the operations. Of the services rendered to the column by Surgeon-Captain Evans, M.B., 18th Bengal Infantry, who acted as senior medical officer, I cannot speak too highly. By his untiring energy in camp and on the march, and by his careful treatment of the men, he undoubtedly enabled the force to keep as efficient as it did during a most trying and unhealthy season of the year.

NOTE.—I have not attempted to compute the loss inflicted by us on the enemy, as the well-known custom of the Lushais in invariably carrying off their dead and wounded renders it impossible to make any reliable estimate.

That they lost heavily from the beginning to the end may be assumed from the fact that they own to losses greater than we had anticipated, and their estimate to us would naturally be rather under than over the mark.

No. 706,—"Field Operations—Lushai,"—dated Shillong, the 5th August 1892.

From—BRIGADIER-GENERAL G. N. CHANNER, C.B., V.C., Commanding the Assam District,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

With reference to your Field Operations—Lushai No. 4889-A, dated 29th July 1892, I have honor to record the following on the reports furnished (and attached) by Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick, 18th Bengal Infantry, and Captain Loch, Military Police.

2. From personal communication with Mr. M'Cabe, the Political Agent in charge of the Lushai operations, and who arrived on duty in Shillong at the end of June, I am enabled to state, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, that excellent service was rendered throughout the operations by Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick and his detachment of the 18th Bengal Infantry, and that this officer worked in complete harmony with the Political Agent in an undertaking which was essentially a civil affair. Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick gave the greatest assistance in pushing up convoys of provisions, in employing his men in road-making, in sanitation and housing of the troops, and in keeping the Western Lushais in check.

3. The detachments of the 18th Bengal Infantry employed separately on punitive expeditions were under command of Lieutenant and Adjutant R. M. Edwards, and did good service throughout. The officers attached for duty to the Police—namely, Lieutenant H. H. Roddy, 42nd Gurkha Rifles, and Lieutenant C. R. Johnson, 1-5th Gurkha Rifles—were also reported to me by Mr. M'Cabe as having done willing and good work. I regret to state that Lieutenant Johnson's health completely broke down on return to the base, and that he will have to be invalided home from the effects of malarious fever contracted on service.

4. As regards Surgeon-Captain J. F. Evans, M.B., 18th Bengal Infantry, I have much pleasure in reporting, for Lord Roberts' information, the unremitting care this officer displayed towards the sick of all ranks. To Surgeon-Captain Evans' energy and watchful care the 18th are indebted for a low sick report in a notoriously unhealthy part of the world. I have already myself thanked Surgeon-Captain Evans in District Orders for his medical zeal and energy, and trust that Lord Roberts will feel that this officer's services are worthy of being brought to the notice of Government.

5. Of Captain Loch, commanding the Sonai Military Police, I have no personal knowledge, but he agrees in his report with my recommendations regarding Lieutenants Roddy and Johnson and Surgeon-Captain Evans.

6. Finally, in my capacity as General Officer Commanding the Assam District, I beg to place on record my high sense of the able and cheerful manner in which Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick worked his detachment, composed as they were of Hindustanis from the plains, unused to dense jungle hills; and I am aware that Mr. M'Cabe agrees with me in thinking that a large measure of the success attained by the Lushai operations was due to Lieutenant-Colonel Rennick's zeal, energy, and hearty co-operation, and I beg to bring his name forward for the favor of Lord Roberts' consideration.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

BURMA.

No. 1015.—The Most Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor-General in India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the subjoined correspondence, including a letter from the Adjutant-General in India, submitting, under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief in India, reports received from the Commander-in-Chief, Madras Army, and the General Officer Commanding the Burma District describing the operations carried out in the Chin Hills and on the North-Eastern Frontier of Burma in 1891-92.

2. It is to be understood that the reports now published are not "despatches."

No. 3235-B, dated Simla, the 7th October 1892.

From—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

I am desired to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 5140-A,—"Field Operations—Burma,"—dated the 13th August 1892, submitting, for the consideration of the Government of India, letters received from the Commander-in-Chief, Madras Army, containing reports descriptive of the operations carried out in the Chin Hills and on the North-Eastern Frontier of Burma during the season of 1891-92.

2. In reply, I am to say, for the information of the Commander-in-Chief, that the Government of India concur in His Excellency's opinion as to the satisfactory manner in which the operations were carried out, and consider that great credit is due to the officers and troops who took part therein. The Government of India also cordially acknowledge the services rendered by the Nwengal Column in its forced and difficult march under the command of Captain Rose, 39th Bengal Infantry, from Botong to Lungleh; also by the detachment under Lieutenant Harrison, Royal Engineers, which gallantly defended the Sadon post against the repeated attacks of the Kachins.

No. 5140-A,—"Field Operations—Burma,"—dated 13th August 1892.

From—The Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to submit, for the consideration of the Government of India, the accompanying letters,* with enclosures, from the Commander-in-Chief, Madras Army, containing reports descriptive of the operations carried out in the Chin Hills and on the North-Eastern Frontier of Burma during the season of 1891-92, to which sanction was accorded by Government in letter No. 3148-B, dated 31st October 1891, to the address of the Chief Commissioner of Burma.

*No. 2331-W, dated 31st July 1892.
No. 2332-W, dated 31st July 1892.

2. Lord Roberts fully concurs with the Commander-in-Chief, Madras Army, in his estimate of the satisfactory results of the operations and in the commendations bestowed on Major-General R. C. Stewart, C.B., Commanding the Burma District, and on Major J. H. Sewell and Major H. B. Jeffreys, Assistant Adjutant-Generals of the Mandalay and Myingyan Districts, respectively, on whom fell much of the work in connection with the organisation of the several columns, and on the officers and troops who took part in the operations.

3. The operations were attended with but little open resistance on the part of the tribes, but the forced and timely march of the Nwengal Column under Captain H. Rose, 39th Bengal Infantry, from Botong to Lungleh in relief of Captain Shakespear, Superintendent, South Lushai Hills, and the gallant defence of the Sadôn post by a handful of men under Lieutenant T. Harrison, Royal Engineers, against repeated attacks by the Kachins are incidents that stand out prominently and deserve special mention.

4. His Excellency is of opinion that these reports should not be published as despatches, but treated as reports, as in the case of the reports on the operations of the season 1890-91, which were forwarded to Government under cover of this office No. 5073-A, dated 25th July 1891.

5. His Excellency's recommendations for rewards will be submitted for the consideration of Government separately.

No. 2331-W,—"Field Operations—Burma,"—dated 31st July 1892.

From—LIEUTENANT-GENERAL THE HON'BLE SIR J. C. DORMER, K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief, Madras Army,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

I have the honor to forward herewith the two reports noted in the margin received from Major-General R. C. Stewart, C.B., Commanding the Burma District, together with the reports from officers who commanded columns (a) during the past season (1891-92) in the Chin Hills and on the North-Eastern Frontier of Burma.

No. 179-D, dated 6th June 1892.
No. 180-D, dated 7th June 1892.

(a) Not published.

2. I would express my concurrence with the opinion held by Major-General Stewart as to the excellent work done by the various columns and the soldierlike spirit displayed by all ranks of the troops engaged.

3. The gallant defence of Sadôn by the force under Lieutenant Harrison, Royal Engineers, and the plucky march of the small party under Lieutenant MacMunn, Royal Artillery, from Hpong to that post, I have already brought to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief in India; whilst the arduous march of the column under Captain Rose, 39th Bengal Infantry, from Botong to Lungleh to assist Captain Shakespear has already been the subject of His Excellency's commendation.

4. The object aimed at by the several columns seems to have been most satisfactorily attained—a result due not only to the spirit, energy, and endurance of the troops employed, but also to the ability and forethought with which all was arranged and carried out by Major-General Stewart, whose valuable services I would again bring to His Excellency's notice.

5. I would also endorse the recommendations made by Major-General Stewart as to officers whose services he has specially brought to notice, and express my hope that these may meet with due recognition.

No. 179-D,—"Field Operations—Burma,"—dated Rangoon, the 6th June 1892.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL R.C. STEWART, C.B., Commanding the Burma District,

To—The Adjutant-General, Madras Army.

I have the honor to submit the reports (a) of the Officers Commanding the Columns which have been operating in the Chin Hills during the last season, together with a summary of the movements of each column prepared by the General Officer Commanding the Myingyan District.

2. The character of the operations, the reports of which are now submitted, differ from those of the season of 1890-91 in so much that, whilst in 1890-91 the various expeditions grew out of the aggressive attitude and treacherous conduct of the tribes, and were organized on the spur of the moment, the operations of the past season were the result of consultation between the civil and military departments, and were carefully planned and prepared.

3. The references which of necessity were made to the Commander-in-Chief and to the Government of India, and the arrival of the Cooly Corps from Darjiling at a later date than had been originally desired, caused some delay in the date on which the troops took the field, but that did not in any way prevent the work of the operations being carefuly completed. Indeed, I may say that more has been done, for, in addition to that plan of operations which was at first prepared, the Kanhaw Column has marched from Fort White to Manipur, and the Nwengal Column has penetrated from the Northern Chin Hills to the Lushai country, returning by Chittagong and Rangoon. I need not remark on the original operations of the Kanhaw and Nwengal Columns, for full information will be found in the reports which are enclosed (a) as well as in the summary of the General Officer Commanding the Myingyan District (a), and when the maps and reports of the Intelligence Officers who accompanied the columns are completed, it will, I trust, be found that much information of unknown tribes and countries has been obtained, and many blanks in the map accurately filled in; but I would wish to express my satisfaction with the officers who controlled and successfully carried out the march of the Kanhaw Column from Tiddin to Manipur, and that still more arduous march from Botong to Daokhoma, Lungleh, and through the Lushai country to Chittagong.

4. As regards the former operation, it is remarkable to remember that in the beginning of 1891 nothing was known of the country north of Fort White beyond the limit of the operations of Brigadier-General Faunce's column in 1889, and that now the country of the Tornlôngs on the north-west, Haitsi and Lopa on the north-east, to Yazagyo in the Kubo Valley have been penetrated and the country mapped, while northwards a column has marched unopposed, viâ Tiddin, Tungzang, and Lenacot, into the valley of Manipur and to the town of Imphal.

5. The march of the Nwengal Column, under Captain H. Rose, 39th Bengal Infantry, from Botong to Daokhama and Lungleh is a still more remarkable feat. The position of Captain J. Shakespear, Superintendent, South Lushai Hills, at Vansanga (from the information received) seemed so precarious, and the call for assistance so urgent, that it was necessary to strain every effort to support him. This was only done by moving off the Kalemyo-Fort White line every available mule, and thus risking inopportune delay in the rationing of the posts in the Northern Chin Hills, and by the engagement of every available coolie to take their place; but no efforts of this sort would have availed if it had not been for the forethought and judgment of Captain Rose, whose experience of operations in the Chin Hills enabled him to appreciate the necessities of the movement, and but for the firmness and promptitude with which Mr. B. S. Carey, Political Officer, treated the tribes, and was thus able to supply a great portion of the necessary transport by the employment of Chin coolies.

I need refer no further here to the march of this column into the Lushai country. It is detailed in full in Captain Rose's report (a); but I wish to express my admiration of the determination displayed by all ranks in overcoming the difficulties, and of the fortitude with which they endured the hardships of the road—hardships which must have been of no mean order if it is right to judge by the appearance of the men of the column when they landed in Rangoon.

6. I must here make special mention of the Botong affair. When the Nwengal Column moved out to Nikwe towards Lushai, I left a post of 100 men of the 10th (Burma) Madras Infantry at the former place partly as a reserve to the column in case it required assistance, and partly to hold open the communications with Fort White and to prevent attacks on the rear of the column. This post was subsequently attacked, and when Captain G. B. Stevens, 4th Madras Infantry (Pioneers), moved out from Fort White to the assistance of Lieutenant J. Henegan, 10th Madras Infantry, he was attacked when endeavouring to cross the Nankathé river. Captain Stevens graphically describes the affair in his report (a), and brings to notice the gallantry of the pioneers,* who swam across the river and repaired the bridge, and I trust these men will meet with the reward they deserve.

The columns (as per margin) which have operated in the Southern Hills have been invariably successful, and the reports which are enclosed (a) show a record of hard work and successful arrangement in the face of considerable difficulties, which reflects the highest credit on the commanders. It is much to be regretted that the sickness in the Baungshè Column was so severe, and it would certainly have been better to have timed the departure of this column to a later date. It is remarkable that throughout these operations there has been no open resistance on the part of the tribes, and not a single instance has occurred of individuals being attacked on the road, which during former years was so common.

7. I wish to place on record the appreciation I have for the officers and men of the 4th Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps, who have served in the several expeditions in the Chin Hills during the past season. They have done most excellent work and displayed a keenness which was pleasant to see. I would wish specially to bring to notice Captain W. D. Stuart, Lieutenant C. L. E. Eustace, and Second-Lieutenant W. J. Long, who accompanied the column to Lushai.

The 12th (Burma) Madras Infantry has done excellent service wherever it has been employed.

It is with much pleasure that I again record the high opinion I hold of the 39th Bengal Infantry (Garhwal Rifle Regiment). Their conduct has been exemplary in quarters, and in the field it is the admiration of all officers who have served with them.

(a) Not published.

The 4th Madras Infantry (Pioneers) have earned a name for themselves of which they may well be proud. At the work of pioneers they are excellent, and in willingness, powers of marching, and general endurance cannot be beaten; they have always shown a fine spirit in the field, and are a brilliant example of what a regiment can be made by its officers.

8. I wish to bring to notice of the Commander-in-Chief for special reward the services of Captain G. B. Stevens, 4th Madras Infantry, and Captain H. Rose, 39th Bengal Infantry.

The former has served for two seasons in the Chin Hills. He is of untiring energy: on this occasion he has superintended the whole of the pioneer work in the Northern Hills; he has commanded the Kanhaw Column with success, as well as the column which marched to Imphal; he commanded in the Botong affair, and led the attack on the village of Haili. To himself, I consider, is mainly due the excellent spirit in the 4th Madras Infantry (Pioneers).

Captain Rose has done excellent service on all occasions in the Chin Hills. He officiated as political officer at Fort White last year, and by tact and judgment kept the tribes in the vicinity in due subjection; he has commanded the Nwengal Column and that which marched from Fort White to Lushai, and by his excellent arrangements carried this force through a crisis which without due forethought might have had disastrous results.

I also beg to bring to notice the particularly good services rendered by the Native officers as per margin. Subadar-Major Bhupal Thápa has done excellent service with the Nwengal Column, and from his former experience in the Lushai campaign of 1871 was of the greatest help to Captain Rose.

Subadar-Major Bhupal Thápa, Bahadur, 39th Bengal Infantry.
Subadar Abdur Rahim, 4th Madras Infantry.
Jemadar Abdullah Khan, 4th Madras Infantry.

Subadar Abdur Rahim, 4th Madras Infantry, has done excellent work under Captain Stevens. He has unfailing energy and resource. In the Botong affair he superintended the building of the raft by which the garrison was brought in safety across the Manipur river, and he has displayed an admirable coolness under fire at a critical moment.

Jemadar Abdullah Khan was in sole command of the detachment of the 4th Madras Infantry which accompanied the Nwengal Column to Lushai. This party under this Jemadar, the first on the move, and the last into camp each day, did pioneer's work for the column on the march from Botong to Vansanga and Lungleh, which has been described to me as admirable, and this officer's conduct in particular as splendid. His control over his men and his energy stamps him as an officer of merit. I recommended these officers for special recognition.

The officers who commanded the columns as per margin have all shown ability and energy, and I trust their services may be acknowledged.

Irish Fusiliers, has again commanded the Darjiling Cooly Corps, and again evinced judgment and discretion in dealing with these people.

Lieutenant J. K. Watson, 4th King's Royal Rifle Corps, who took up the duties of Transport Officer with the coolies in the Southern Hills after the death of Captain J. St. J. Knowles, Royal Irish Regiment, has managed the corps with judgment and energy, and I trust his services may also be acknowledged.

The medical officers who have served with the columns and at the rest-hospitals are reported as having performed their duties with ability and energy. I would specially bring to notice the services of Surgeon-Captain C. L. Williams, M.D., Indian Medical Service (Madras), who has served on the Northern Hills during two seasons, who served with the Kanhaw Column on its march to Imphal, and whose acquaintance with the tribes has been of material service to them, and Surgeon-Captains Dobson and Doyle, who accompanied the Nwengal Column to Lushai.

The Transport Officers who have been in charge of the Government mules on the lines of communications (Captain G. Rippon, 29th Madras Infantry, in the north; Captain G. P. Stewart, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, in the south) have performed arduous duties with skill and energy, and are worthy of commendation. Captain Rippon accompanied the Lushai Column from Fort White to Chittagong, and to his care and energy it is due that the loss in mules was not greater.

9. Though somewhat outside the province of a report of military operations, this report would be incomplete if I did not acknowledge how much of the success of those in the north is due to Mr. B. S. Carey, Political Officer, Northern Chin Hills. By his firmness and judgment in his treatment of the tribes he has taught them all in due subjection, and he has taught them the advantages of submission to our control, and by his tact, consideration, and cordial co-operation with the military he has gained the confidence and esteem of every officer with whom he has served, and their acknowledgment of the great value of his services.

The work of the officers attached to the Intelligence Branch will be hereafter treated of; but I beg specially to bring to notice the services of Major M. C. B. F. Walker, King's Royal Rifle Corps, who accompanied the column from Botong to Lushai. It is reported to me that he has done a large amount of most satisfactory work in the face of extreme difficulty, and I am glad to be able to express my appreciation of the zeal which prompted him to volunteer for so arduous an undertaking.

No. 180-D, dated Rangoon, the 7th June 1892.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL R. C. STEWART, C.B., Commanding the Burma District,

To—The Adjutant-General, Madras Army.

Maingkhwan Column.	North-Eastern Column.
Irrawaddy Column.	Eastern Column.

I have the honor to submit the reports (a) of the Officers Commanding the columns as per margin, which have been operating during the season of 1891-92 on the North-Eastern Frontier of Burma, together with the report of Brigadier-General M. W. E. Gosset, C.B., Commanding the Mandalay District, from which district the troops for these operations were drawn.

2. These operations originated in proposals which were submitted by the Commissioner of the Northern Division to the Chief Commissioner urging the desirability of exploring those tracts to the north, north-east, and north-west of Bhamo, of which little was known, and of bringing under British influence those tribes within our undoubted border which had not yet acknowledged our supremacy.

3. The general scheme of operations which was for the most part adopted will be found in my letter to the Quartermaster-General, Madras Army, No. 755-F, dated 18th August 1891, the only alterations being that subsequent to the submission of that letter another column was added to those detailed, and called the Irrawaddy Column

4. For ready reference I will deal with the work of the several columns in the order in which they stand in my letter to the Quartermaster-General, Madras Army, of the 18th August 1891, No. 755-F, and in Burma District Order No. 1, dated the 12th September 1891, in which full instructions for the formation of the columns were issued.

Major the Hon'ble A. E. Dalzell, 2nd Oxfordshire Light Infantry, Commanding.
Staff Officer,—Lieutenant W. MacL. Campbell, Royal Highlanders.

Troops.

1 British officer, 2 guns,—No. 6 (Bombay) Mountain Battery.
2 British officers, 50 rifles,—2nd Devonshire Regiment.
2 British officers, 100 rifles,—33rd (Burma) Madras Infantry.

5. Maingkhwan Column.—This column, strength as per margin, rendezvoused at Mogaung on the 10th December, the object to be attained being to explore the Amber Mines, to march to Maingkhwan, and then to explore the hitherto almost unknown Hukong Valley, returning to Mogaung viâ the Jade Mines. Major the Hon'ble A. E. Dalzell in his final report (a) gives a graphic summary of the people and the country which his column visited, but scarcely enters into the operations of the columns so much as might be wished. It would seem that the operations might have been conducted with greater leisure; and as the country visited by the column is reported to be extremely fertile and well watered, and with a numerous population well affected towards us, it may be desirable to again visit the Hukong Valley at an early period.

6. Irrawaddy Column.—This column, strength as per margin, left Senbo on the 17th December 1891. Originally destined to work the country westwards from the confluence of the Irrawaddy, its objective was subsequently changed to Sadôn, on which place the column marched from Waingmaw, reaching it with slight opposition on the 26th December. Leaving a party of 200 rifles of the 33rd Madras Infantry under Lieutenant A. R. Denne, 2nd Madras Infantry, to construct a stockade, Major Yule with the rest of the column visited the country to the north-east of Sadôn, including Nawchôn and the country of the Marus as far as Kumpi, returning to Sadôn by a new route. Meanwhile the building of the post was pushed on, and on the 6th February Major Yule again left for Sadankong to the north of the 'Nmaikha, leaving Lieutenant T. Harrison, Royal Engineers, with 160 rifles, in command.

Major J. H. Yule, 2nd Devonshire Regiment, Commanding.
Lieutenant H. C. Holman, 2nd Devonshire Regiment, Staff Officer.

Troops.

1 British officer, 2 guns,—No. 6 (Bombay) Mountain Battery.
2 British officers, 100 rifles,—2nd Devonshire Regiment.
1 British officer, 50 rifles,—23rd Madras Infantry.
2 British officers, 200 rifles,—33rd (Burma) Madras Infantry.

7. The subsequent attack on Sadôn by the Kachins and the defence by the garrison under Lieutenant Harrison have already formed the subject of a report to your address. I therefore need here only refer to Major Yule's operations on Sadankong, which were carried on in a manner reflecting credit on Major Yule and the troops under his command, the passage of the 'Nmaikha, a deep and rapid river, being safely crossed by means of rafts constructed by the Gurkhas of the Mogaung Levy, who formed part of his column. Major Yule herein displayed a commendable foresight in the disposition of his force; for, leaving behind him at Sadôn the Sappers, the Punjabi soldiers of the 33rd Madras Infantry, and 50 of the 23rd Madras Infantry, he took with him the Mogaung Levy, which was formed of Gurkhas, who were more fitted for jungle-fighting, and whose experience in the construction of rafts was of untold advantage in the passage of the river 'Nmaikha.

8. The subsequent operations of the Irrawaddy column comprised visits to Tungor and Sagang, at the former of which places the whereabouts of the rebel Po Saw was ascertained and his camp attacked, and at the latter the Sawbwa of Kwitu was arrested. After working round the group of Loi Lem and Loi Ngu, the column returned to Sadôn on the 25th March, from which date up to its return to the river it was employed in preparing the road and in forwarding rations to the post at Sadôn, which it was arranged should be held by two guns of No. 6 (Bombay) Mountain Battery and 250 rifles of the Mogaung Levy. Major Yule reports that the objects of his expedition have been fully obtained. Brigadier-General Gosset acknowledges the record of good work done by the column, and it is a great pleasure to myself to bring to notice that the energy, forethought, and power of arrangement displayed by Major Yule has confirmed the high character I had of him after his services in the Momeik District during February of season 1890-91. Major Yule brings to notice the services of Lieutenant A. R. Denne, 2nd Madras Infantry, and Lieutenant H. C. Holman, Devonshire Regiment, and Surgeon-Captain J. S. Green, Medical Staff, for excellent service throughout the operations.

The list of killed and wounded in the Irrawaddy Column, inclusive of those at Sadôn, is as per margin.

The column was finally broken up on the 18th April 1892, and the troops returned to quarters.

frontier, to visit the tribes which had not hitherto come under our subjection, and as far as possible to determine what was the original boundary between China and Burma. A glance at the map which accompanies Captain Davies' report (a) will show that the country through which the column passed has been thoroughly visited. The column met with no opposition on the march up the frontier, but at Kazu received the news of the attack on Sadôn, and Captain Davies, proceeding at once by forced marches, relieved that place on the 20th February. Subsequently the column turned south and visited the country between Watang and south to Pasao, and having completed this work struck the Irrawaddy at Talawgyi on the 31st March, and returned to Bhamo early in April. The casualties in the column during the fighting round Sadôn were as per margin. Captain Davies brings to notice the services of Captain G. H. H. Couchman, D.S.O., 2nd Somersetshire Light Infantry, of the Intelligence Branch, and of Lieutenant A. M. Anderson, 19th Madras Infantry, his staff officer, and I consider Captain Davies has conducted the operations of the column entrusted to his command with skill and discretion.

10. Eastern Column.—This column, strength as per margin, has obtained satisfactorily the object with which it was entrusted, which was to operate in the country south of the Taping and in the Namkan Valley. It met with no opposition, but much valuable information regarding the Chinese frontier, the trade routes, &c., has been obtained. Captain Preston brings to notice the services of Lieutenant M. R. Hurly 33rd Madras Infantry, his staff officer; Lieutenants G. M. Morris, 2nd Madras Infantry, Intelligence Officer; and R. C. Pierce, 2nd Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, Transport Officer.

11. It will be acknowledged, I feel sure, that the arrangements for the supply of ammunition, rations, &c., for columns destined to operate in a district practically unknown was a task of no mean order, and when the columns had once been organized, and the numerous movements completed to concentrate the troops on Bhamo, this task fell on Colonel J. H. Prendergast, commanding at that station, and I cannot speak too highly of the forethought and judgment with which these arrangements were made. The points at which supply depôts were to be established having been once settled, the arrangements, despite many and great difficulties, were completed in a manner which reflects the greatest credit on Colonel Prendergast. In making these arrangements Colonel Prendergast was ably seconded by Captain F. M. Barwick, Marine Transport Officer at Mandalay, and by Messrs. G. A. Lye and A. W. MacArthur, first grade officers, Royal Indian Marine, and J. M. Puttock, Local Marine Department, who were stationed at convenient points on the Upper Irrawaddy for the purpose of pushing on stores. This in itself was a matter requiring the greatest energy and skill, for the navigation of the river between Senbu and Myitkyina had not been before accomplished by steamers at low water. This was ably managed by Mr. Lye, who took charge of the section between Senbo and Myitkyina, and who, with the assistance of Lieutenant G. Lubbock, Royal Engineers, arranged for the removal by dynamite of obstacles in the river, and was thus able to organise a regular service of steamers which plied between Bhamo and Myitkyina.

Arrangements for supply.

12. The river transport service having been arranged, the task of pushing forward the necessary supplies for so large a force fell on Lieutenant J. F. Barry, Executive Commissariat Officer at Bhamo. I had opportunity of personally satisfying myself of this officer's very complete arrangements, and I consider that they were carried out in a manner which stamps Lieutenant Barry as a Commissariat officer of much promise.

Commissariat Department.

13. All the officers commanding the columns have acted with energy and spirit, and I particularly wish to bring to notice the services of Captain Davies and Major Yule. The former officer, though a comparatively young officer, has commanded his column with judgment, and I consider his services worthy of notice. The latter officer has shown a marked ability for command, and I trust his services may receive special recognition. I have every reason to be most satisfied with the energy and ability displayed by all the medical officers attached to columns and at the base and rest-hospitals.

Officers brought to notice.

Lastly, I beg to acknowledge the cordial support and assistance I have received from Brigadier-General M. W. E. Gosset, C.B., who joined the Mandalay command before the troops took the field, and who accompanied me to Sadôn in February 1892.

14. I must not omit to mention that when the establishment of a post at Sadôn became apparent, the problem of keeping open the communication with the Irrawaddy during the rains was a source of much anxiety. This was ultimately solved by the construction of a suspension bridge over the Namli river, which was successfully accomplished in the face of many difficulties and not without considerable loss of health to both First-grade Officer G. A. Lye, Indian Marine, and Lieutenant Lubbock, Royal Engineers. To carry out this work every article used in the construction had to be brought from Mandalay and transported from the Irrawaddy at Waingmaw to the Namli on elephants, and there placed in position. I consider it is a work which reflects the greatest credit on these officers and deserving of special consideration. The bridge is now completed, and is in good working order.

As this letter closes my report of the operations in Burma, I beg to bring to notice the excellent service rendered me by Lieutenant-Colonel H. H. Harvey-Kelly, Principal Commissariat Officer of the Columns, and to tender to that officer my most cordial thanks. Both in the supply and transport arrangements he has been of invaluable assistance to me, and has carried out difficult duties with tact and discretion.

No. 2332-W,—"Field Operations—Burma,"—dated Ootacamund, 31st July 1892

From—Lieutenant-General the Hon'ble Sir J. C. Dormer, K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief, Madras Army,

To—The Adjutant-General in India.

In continuation of my No. 2331-W of the 31st July 1892, I have honor to forward herewith letter No. 644-E of the 15th July 1892 from the General Officer Commanding the Burma District, bringing to notice the excellent services rendered by Major J. H. Sewell, 2nd Norfolk Regiment, Assistant Adjutant-General, Mandalay District, and Major H. B. Jeffreys, Royal Artillery, Assistant Adjutant-General, Myingyan District, in organizing the several columns within the districts of which they have been during the late operations in Burma the chief staff officers.

No. 644-E,—"Honours and Rewards,"—dated Rangoon, 15th July 1892.

From—Major-General R. C. Stewart, C.B., Commanding the Burma District,

To—The Adjutant-General, Madras Army.

In continuation of my No. 180-D, dated 6th June 1892, I have honor to add that I inadvertently omitted to mention the names of Major J. H. Sewell, 2nd Norfolk Regiment, Assistant Adjutant-General, Mandalay District, and Major H. B. Jeffreys, Royal Artillery, Assistant Adjutant-General, Myingyan District, who have done excellent service in organising the several columns within the districts of which they are the chief staff officers.

2. Major Sewell has for the last two seasons performed the duties of Assistant Adjutant-General with marked ability, and had the arranging of the Wuntho expedition as well as those on the Eastern Frontier during 1890-91, and the whole of the columns on the North-Eastern Frontier during 1891-92, which he has carried out to my entire satisfaction.

3. Major Jeffreys joined the Myingyan District just as the columns were taking the field in 1891-92, and displayed all the qualifications necessary for a staff officer of so important a district at a critical period.

4. I think the services of these officers are entitled to acknowledgment and recognition.

Appointments.
